

In this hands on practical training course you will use either Final Cut Pro or Final Cut Express to capture, edit and export footage and interviews for streaming over to the internet.

The course covers the basics from importing digital content to final output and compression. It is a comprehensive introduction to Final Cut with an emphasis on preparing video for internet broadcast. This course can also be run using other video software programmes, please contact us if you would like to discuss this option.

Course Information

Duration:	Two days	Location:	London
Cost:	Public course: £595 plus VAT Individual tuition: £990 plus VAT	Dates:	Please call 020 7359 9880 or visit www.lcmj.co.uk

Key topics:

- Understanding digital video
- Importing digital video
- Selecting which footage to use
- Editing for impact
- Adding and editing sound
- Working with multiple tracks
- Compression and uploading to the Web

Course Outline

Introduction to editing digital video and Final Cut

- Shooting terminology
- What is non-linear editing
- Setting up a project
- Introduction to Final Cut and its interface

Working with footage using the Timeline and Canvas in Final Cut

- Capturing and playing digital video in Final Cut
- Viewing and marking clips
- Selecting which footage to use
- Viewing edit points
- Working with Markers

Editing your footage

- Editing in the Timeline
- Considering the constraints of broadcasting on the web
- Deleting clips and gaps
- Inserting clips
- Trimming, dragging and fine-tuning edit points
- Editing for impact
- Marking your source
- Logging your clips

Adding Audio

- How to increase impact with sound
- Working with background noise, music, interviews and voice overs
- Creating voice-overs in Final Cut
- Logging your audio clips
- Adjusting audio in the timeline

Adding Still Images and Titles

- Adding titles, logos and other items
- Incorporating still images
- Animating still images

Uploading to the Web

- Exporting sequences and clips
- Understanding compression
- Uploading to the Web

All courses at the London College of Media and Journalism are supported by six months telephone Helpline support.